

Louise graduated from Bloomington High School in 1968 and earned degrees from the University of Maryland, College Park (BA -double major in Painting and Art History); and School of the Art Institute in Chicago (MFA in Fibers). Louise's creative work and teaching at the University of Washington, Seattle has been discussed in numerous books and museum publications, and her artwork has been exhibited in numerous cities including Chicago, New York, Seattle, Montreal and Hong Kong. Louise's BHS art teacher, Miss Elizabeth Stein, attended every one of Lou's exhibitions in Chicago until her death. Being in an exhibition celebrating Miss Stein's 30+ years of teaching in Bloomington, was a personal highpoint for Lou that has not been matched.
