

David Gronemeier graduated from Bloomington High School in 1969 and is the owner of Gronemeier Concrete Cutting, Inc. His business innovations have led the way in providing top quality services to Bloomington that are ahead of others in the state. Mr. Gronemeier has served in leadership positions with several organizations including his neighborhood association, a safe boating advocacy group, and a professional organization for contractors. Mr. Gronemeier has a heart for making his community a great place to live.