

Ed Rozboril retired from District 87 after having served as a teacher, football and tennis coach at Bloomington High School from 1977-2003. After his retirement, Ed continued to coach until 2009. Ed was known as “Mr. Stats” in that he knew players from throughout the state and how to beat them. Ed shared his vacation time with players, encouraging them in lessons and summer tournaments. Ed stressed skill development and personal improvement while, at the same time, striving for victories. Ed was honored at the BHS Tennis Reunion in June 2010 and was honored with a court named in his honor.
