A Note From Your Teacher

Parents- just a friendly reminder that we can SEE and HEAR you on camera when your child is on Zoom. Also, make sure your child is doing their OWN school work. Doing it for them or giving them the answers is not helping them learn the skills they need to feel successful. They need to be BRAVE by trying it on their own. We know it is hard to watch them make mistakes, but that is how they learn best. We do encourage you to be available if they are having trouble with technology or finding a paper, supply, etc. ~Your First Grade Teachers

A Peek At What We Are Learning

Reading

Letter names and sounds, listening to stories and answering comprehension questions about the story

Writing

How to write a sentence and practicing correct letter formation

Math

How to write our numbers, how to be a math superhero, finding patterns all around us, what is the same/different with objects.

Science

How scientists learn by being curious, asking questions, investigating, and exploring. What an invention is and how germs get in our body.

Social Studies

Labor Day, Community Helpers, Patriot Day (9/11)

REMINDERS

Check your teacher's Google Classroom for any new activities posted for next week.
