

Website Accessibility

We strive to make this website accessible to visitors with disabilities. However, if you have difficulty using this website because of a disability, please call us at (309) 827-6031 and/or email Gina Lavazza at lavazzag@district87.org, and we will provide you with the information and services that are available on the website.

While navigating our website, you may find links to third-party websites not owned or maintained by Bloomington Public Schools, District 87 which may have different accessibility practices and policies. If you have difficulties using such websites, please contact us at the phone number and/or email above.